

FLOOD DAMAGE TO ROAD NOT GREAT

Norfolk and Southern Officials Glad to Find Railway So Little Hurt.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
RALEIGH, N. C., September 10.—That the damage to the roadbed by the recent floods was much less than they had expected, and that the condition now as they find it is an agreeable surprise is the declaration of Receiver Fitzgerald, of the Norfolk and Southern, and Vice-President John L. Roper, who is also head of the Roper Lumber Company. They arrived here this evening on a trip over the lines, accompanied by General Counsel E. H. Fife. Fife said that the Ropers say they find on this trip that business is greatly improved in all branches; many lumber plants that were closed down have started up again with increased output; the roads to resume operations. The train leaves Raleigh to-morrow morning for Norfolk, going by way of Belhaven.

Rev. Elsom Case.

The breach between Pastor P. G. Elsom and the board of deacons and fifty odd other members of Fayetteville Street Baptist Church in his refusal to resign from the electorate because of exceptions to his style of ministry continues to widen. A statement was issued by the deacons to-day, giving the case in detail from the viewpoint of the deacons, their action in the church, who recently took letters of withdrawal from the church, but are to continue the fight for ousting Rev. Mr. Elsom and for their own resumption of membership thereafter.

The statement avowed the whole difficulty, beginning with the great falling off in financial support of the church last May and the increasing debt for running expenses since then due to the deacons' allusion to withdraw anything more, as long as Rev. Mr. Elsom was pastor, for the reason that his style of ministry was obnoxious to them, and coming on up to the more recent arrangement growing out of the style of pastor's sermon on the Ten Commandments.

Make Amends.

Affidavits by three prominent Baptist ministers who have intervened for the adjustment of the trouble are declared in the statement to be in the possession of the deacons, to the effect that Rev. Elsom has agreed to the view of the situation, and the written objections to his ministry were withdrawn by the deacons, he would resign last Friday night; that this was agreed to, and then the resignation was not forthcoming. Elson is bringing about a speedy adjournment when the resignation was called for.

Rev. Elson still takes the position that, with the majority of the church membership willing for him to retain the pastorate, he does not feel that it is his duty to resign.

Eliminate Hazards.

The student body of the North Carolina College of Agricultural and Mechanical Arts has unanimously voted to entirely eliminate all kinds of hazards. The sophomore class first, some days ago, adopted a resolution to this effect to the dissatisfaction of those who had written to Governor Glenn, the student body, by a unanimous rising vote, took a similar stand, pledging their word and honor as gentlemen to not engage in any form of hazard.

Dog Is Captured.

William J. Andrews and a searching party, out after the dog that bit Mrs. Teader, found the animal yesterday, dead five miles north of Raleigh this evening. It was brought back here to-night, and the brain will be tested for hydrocephalus in the State laboratory. The dog has been identified by all those bitten.

$23,000 FOR SLANDER.

This Sum Is Asked of Summer Visitor at Asheville.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
ASHVILLE, N. C., September 10.—F. L. Tedder, a prominent resident of Pensacola, Fla., who, with his wife and daughter, has been spending the summer in Western North Carolina, was arrested here yesterday on a warrant drawn by Rev. C. Coggins, president of the Christian Church Institute, of Black Mountain, charging slander and asking damages to the amount of $20,000. Mr. Tedder was taken into custody, and later released on $5,000 bond. The case is set for hearing on September 16th.

The suit is brought by the Rev. Mr. Coggins as the result of a loss of two railway tickets belonging to Mr. Tedder, who at the time was staying at Black Mountain with his family. Later these tickets were mailed to Mr. Tedder at Asheville, and it is stated that the initials on the tickets were changed, and that a profane message accompanied them.

Mr. Coggins alleges in the complaint that the names were wickedly and maliciously slandered by Mr. Tedder by remarks made by the latter before witnesses, when he instigated that the plaintiff had stolen the tickets and had presented them, after changing the initials, to the railway agent to be used, or cashed, and he (Coggins) alleges that his good name has been damaged to the amount of $20,000, for which he asks judgment.
